

Best Buy's 'Freeman' to offer October 15th Demo

Remember Tim Freeman, (who prefers to be called 'Freeman', rather than 'Tim'?), Several months ago he was kind enough to come from the Council Bluffs Best Buy store to do a demo for us on Windows 8.

We've arranged for him to give the October demo, showing the 'Surface' computer.... both the 'RT', and the 'PRO' models. This should give us an even deeper look into not only Windows 8, but also learning the pros and cons of these two computers. Tim does a great job of presenting his material and is ready and willing to answer your questions, so jot them down and have them ready for him. Hope to see you on Oct. 15th. We're grateful to Best Buy manager Chris Peterson for making this demo possible. Drop-in at Best Buy and say HI to Chris.

Winners!

In this happy looking group are some who won gifts & prizes during our Summer Picnic Drawings that took place at the Manawa Fish & Game Club meeting hall Sunday, Sept. 15th. Every few minutes, (while playing Pokeno) a drawing was held. Everyone was issued a ticket and had an equal chance to win.

Prizes included gift certificates for shopping at Target, free meals at Godfather's, Golden Corral, a $25.00 gift certificate for Super Saver's and a new Sunbeam hand mixer. No wonder they're all smiling and looking so happy!

Also not shown here, were the many Pokeno winners who received a Gold Dollar when they won and yelled POKENO! It was a FUN time!

Mmm, mmm, GOOD!

There was certainly no shortage of good food! The main courses were fried chicken, ham, baked beans, and meatballs, accompanied by a huge variety of sideline dishes including salads, snacks, and delicious deserts. You missed a great time, if you didn't attend this 2013 Summer event!

Summer Picnic Activities at Manawa Hall

Joe introduced officers and welcomed guests. About 50 attended. We filled the hall comfortably.

Dee, our A-Team Mom & Treasurer, Mary Alice

Dee & Joe look 'pretty' for the camera!

Joe3rd with daughter, Taylor who arrived late because she had a volleyball game to win!

We had a great selection of food including fried chicken, ham, baked beans, meatballs and WAY too delicious salads and deserts:o)

Finally, those words everyone was anxious to hear... "Chow's On!" We won't attempt to name each individual who attended but needless to say, we didn't hesitate to form the chow line. It all smelled so good, and looked even better. Let's eat!

Nice looking plate, eh?

It was hard not to try a little of each of these delicious deserts!

It was a test, trying to decide what to choose... so most took a dab of this and a dab of that.... We didn't want to miss out on anything!

And the food and fun continues...

We nearly had to pry these boys away from their electronic game, to the food.
(Future MAPCC'ers?)

It's a pretty fair-size hall and the chow line stretched the full length and then some. Hungry looking bunch, eh?

Another Picnic for MAPCC ... 2013

Enjoying the food and conversation with friends and family.

Yup! It's 'finger-linking good!'

Let's see, some of this & that, etc.

We're almost ready now to begin playing Pokeno.

But not 'till the food line is satisfied. No hurry... we'll wait.

Finished eating? ... Let's play Pokeno Now!

Pokeno is played much like Bingo, except you use a deck of cards instead of numbers. Joe 3rd pitched-in and helped with the card calling, while throwing-in an occasional pun, perking-up the troops.

Fred relieved both Joe's by calling cards.

We all enjoyed playing. There were quite a few Gold Dollar winners yelling "Pokeno!"

Might as well get a plug in for the Club Logo on our T-shirts.

Above: Some of the happy winners of various prizes. Far-Right, Gage & Amy. Gage won the Sunbeam hand mixer. He was thrilled yelling, "Wow, I finally WON something!"

It was nearing 5 p.m. & clean-up time as volunteers happily pitched-in with getting the meeting hall clean and back in order so we could get our deposit back. Everyone enjoyed themselves and the affair went off without a hitch. Thanks to ALL who made it happen!

New Computer?

Discussion took place about the possibility of eventually either replacing or up-dating our present lap-top computer. We've used it over the past 7 years. We may move up to Windows 8. Our present laptop operates under Windows XP. Support for XP stops next April. It's something we'll need to be considering.

2013 Christmas Party

Discussion took place where to hold the Christmas Party. The New Horizon's church was suggested and we are to check to see if the first or second week of December will be available.

Tonight's Demo

Mary Alice Fehr offered the evening's demo, showing a very well-done video on YouTube, covering many aspects of Windows 8's operating system. She printed and distributed a five-page flyer to each member on Window's 8. She also showed her Windows phone. A very well done Demo, Mary Alice!
